In 1808, Prussia ceded Neufchatel to Napoleon who transferred it to Marshal Berthier. At the peace of Paris, Neufchatel was retroceded to l'russia, and by the treaty of Vienna it was allowed to join the Swiss Confederation.

Its intimate relations with Switzerland, and the continued absence of its prince, who was represented by a Governor, a Prussian General, had the effect, notwithstanding the mild constitutional government, of arousing the republican sympathies of a large portion of the population, which resulted in an insurrection on the occasion of the July revolution of 1830 known as the Rock Spring Hotel, proposes keeping a which was suppressed at the time, but burst forth again, and with complete success, in 1848. Was there Cheating in Maine ?

From the Augusta Age. Where did the Votes Come From?-When the State last year polled 110,000 votes, almost every one of all the parties expressed great astonishment at the fact. The present year witnessed an increase of 12,000. By refering to the census of 1850 it will be seen that the whole number of polls in the state was but 105,480. In that year the St. Lawrence, Kennebeck and Portland, and Androschoggin and Kennebeck railroads were in process of completion, and employed a vast number of men, since departed from the State. The business of ship building was carried on to a much greater extent than during the present year. For the last six years the constant cry has been that Maine was losing her population, through western and California emigration, and when to this ion, Frederic I, of Prussia. At the peace of Utrecht is added the fact that a vast number of our voters the European powers recognised the right and title who are included in the cencus are upon the ocean, sailing the ships, belonging to Maine and other States, and that thousands were either absent or unable to attend, or in some way prevented from being at the polls-the question naturally arises, how it happens, that last year the aggregate vote was 15,000 greater than ever before, and this year 27,000 larger than ever until 1855. Basing our calculation upon the largest vote thrown prior to 1855, the increase of population must have been in a ratio nearly three tines greater during the last six years than during the ten years from 1840 to 1850-in other words, while it has been universall yconceded that the severest draughts have been made upon our population since 1850 yet the increase hasbeen about four and a half per cent. per annum, or equal toan increase of 166,-000 in six years—more than double that of the ten

Now, if we admit, as we are willing to do, that all the voters that could be mustered were brought out still the question recurs, how 20,000 votes, at least, can have been added to the full list of polls within the last six years-or 100,000 to our population, while all this emigration has been going on at such a rate, as to call forth the most deprecating language from nearly all our public prints. It is a question we confess our inability to answer. Will some of our neighbors enlighten us on the subject?

If there is anything wrong about this increased vote, we trust it may be looked to prior to November. And it may be well for other States to be watchful that their lists are correct and only legal votes are allowed to vote!

In the meantime the royalist party had, as early post and come out strongly for Buchanan. Read his
